Bouddhanath Stupa

Lies about 6 km to the east of downtown Kathmandu and is the largest stupa in the valley. It looms 36 meters high and presents one of the most fascinating specimens of stupa design. Boudhanath is also known as Khasti, or dew drops, after an account that builders had to use dew to mix the mortar as Kathmandu was suffering from a severe drought during the construction of Bouddhanath.

Bhaktapur Durbar Square

As you walk in, you will feel a sense of inner harmony. Bhaktapur Durbar Square is a collection of Pagoda and shikhara-style temples grouped around a fifty-five-window palace of brick and wood.
